Groton Hill Music Center Groton, Massachusetts

Indian Hill Music's new music education and performance center freed the school from space constraints it faced in its previous Littleton location while also serving as a destination for music fans. The two-story building includes rehearsal and teaching spaces, a 300-seat recital hall, a student recital room, and a 1,000-seat concert hall with a large door that opens to allow visual and aural access to an additional 1,300 patrons on the lawn.
